

CELEBRITY BEAUTY SECRETS

Models and movie stars learn plenty of tips getting primed for the cameras. Here, three of our favorite women, starting with
Linda Evangelista, 49, reveal how they get themselves gorgeous.

NATURAL HAIR

Sharon Dorram does my hair color, and I stay as close to my natural shade as possible. It used to be that whenever I went to work, Garren or Oribe or Guido would say, “Oh, let’s color it! Let’s cut it!” But now everyone just wigs me, so my real hair has gotten really long—I don’t think it’s been this long since 1987. I use Oribe Shampoo for Beautiful Color (1) [$39] and Hamadi Shea Hair Cream.

SIMPLE MAKEUP

Dolce & Gabbana’s The Lift Foundation (6) [$72] and The Primer both have SPF, and I wear the primer every day. If I’m going to lunch or something, I’ll put on Givenchy Phenomen’Eyes Mascara (5) [$30]. I don’t do my brows very often because it really transforms me. Whenever I do them my son says, “Oh, Linda. Linda’s here!” I use the Dessin des Sourcils brow pencil from Yves Saint Laurent (2) [$30] with a little bit of green tint, which is something François Nars taught me. It looks better than reddish brown. I like to do my own nails. I’m actually very good at it. I use Deborah Lippmann’s Cuticle Remover (3) [$20].

JUDICIOUS SKIN CARE

I’m really into Biologique Recherche’s whole line, especially their P50 exfoliators. I use La Roche Posay’s Anthelios sunscreen, but I buy it in Canada because it has a type of Mexoryl that you can’t get in the U.S. I also get laser treatments from dermatologist Roy Geronemus and facials every two weeks from Georgia Louise. She’s brilliant.

CLASSIC FRAGRANCE

I have about 100 perfumes in my room. I always love Robert Piguet Bois Bleu (4) [$175] and Fracas.

BODY MAINTENANCE

Every morning I start the day with lemon water, yerba maté chai tea, and a shot of E3Live blue-green algae. Then I stand on my Power Plate for two minutes to get my lymph system going. That’s what gets me up and at it. I don’t really believe in diets in general, but I do an Ultra-Clear Renew by Metagenics cleanse about three times a year to get rid of inflammation. ►
